WHOLESALE LIST

SUMMER 2021

Cambridge Wine Merchants named National Wine Shop at the Decanter Awards 2020, Best Independent Wine Buyer at the London Wine Fair 2020 and Best Independent Retailer at the People's Choice Drinks Awards 2021

What a winter it's been! With COVID lockdowns, full Brexit and a frankly miserable start to the year it is with relief and excitement that we look forward to hard won freedoms returning to our wonderful Hospitality sector. We wish everyone a safe and profitable return to trading, with hopefully very few further interruptions.

CAMBRIDGE WINE MERCHANTS WHOLESALE LIST - SUMMER 2021

The Buying and Wholesale Team at Cambridge Wine Merchants is delighted to present this new list of our Core Lines, effective 1st June 2021

NEWS

We were delighted to be announced as the National Wine Shop of the Year at both the 2019 and 2020 Decanter Awards, Best Independent Retailer at the People's Choice Drinks Awards 2021 as well as the Independent Wine Buyer at the London International Wine Fair 2020. The awards are designed to celebrate the most successful small and large businesses, who deliver an outstanding service to wine consumers across the UK.

IMPORTING AND BUYING DIRECT

Cambridge Wine Merchants is a wholesaler and retailer, franchisor and broker, which gives us access to the entire drinks market. For this list we focus on producers who make not only great quality products, but who make them with consistency and good prices. In many cases we import directly, and often exclusively, from the winery and buy directly from distilleries and breweries in the UK. Buying direct allows us to offer these products to you at the best possible prices.

LARGER RANGE AVAILABLE ON REQUEST

Please be aware that whilst this wholesale catalogue includes many of our best sellers, it is a reduced selection from a range of over 3000 products available from Cambridge Wine Merchants. If you can't find what you are looking for please don't hesitate to ask any member of the team for further details or to source something for you from our extended and award winning range. We enjoy our status as Independent Merchants as this offers us the freedom to buy what we like from wherever we like on the basis of fundamental and established factors such as quality, value and expression.

VEGAN WINES, BEERS & SPIRITS

We include in this issue information on drinks we have been informed are suitable for vegans. Some animal proteins can be used in the clarification process in wine and beer making. Those are widely being phased out and replaced by vegetable proteins and bentonite clay, which makes them suitable for vegans.

ALLERGEN INFORMATION

Following EU directives 2003/89/EC and 2006/142/EC on allergens, wines which have used milk or egg products in the fining process and have not tested negative for residues using a technique with a detection limit of 0.25mg/l should read on their labels "Contains sulphites, milk, egg" (wine from the 2011 vintage and earlier are exempt). We have contacted our suppliers, all of whom are complying with the regulations. All people serving wine to customers should refer to the label if asked about allergen information.

THIS LIST

Core Lines

We have identified in-depth around 380 lines from our portfolio of over 3,000 that we are committed to holding year-round, allowing you to order with confidence in the expectation that the products will be held in our branches or warehouse for swift delivery. With over 25 years' experience we are knowledgeable and serious about what we buy, and seek quality at prices that make sense.

CHAMPAGNE

Champagne continues to dominate the special occasion drink choice. Of the 20 producers that we list in our retail division, we have selected a few quality growers who have been our favourites for many years, including the very fine grower Pierre Bertrand, whose Brut NV was the only wine awarded 'Exceptional' at a Decanter Champagne panel tasting last summer, and the hidden jewel of the Grand Marques, Joseph Perrier. Something for every list, as well as excellent support from the likes of Martin Gamman MW, UK ambassador for Joseph Perrier.

SPARKLING WINE

The rise in Prosecco sales has not been at Champagne's expense in our business, suggesting people are choosing to drink sparkling rather than still wines. Our own Le Calle Prosecco brand has won Gold in international competition and is highly recommended. More complex than Prosecco, however, and less expensive than Champagne are crémants, the sparkling wines of different French regions (each with their own unique regional combination of grapes), including Limoux, where the earliest sparkling wines in the country are said to have been made. These can be the perfect choice for an alternative by-the-glass offering, and we offer a selection from Burgundy, Loire Valley and—naturally—Limoux. The Cava renaissance gathers pace and we have some brilliant and affordable examples.

AUSTRALIA

Shiraz from the Barossa Valley may be Australia's most famous wine export, but as the country aims to display the diversity of grape varieties, styles and terroirs to be found in the country, some of the stunning but internationally less well-known wine regions are finally being given an opportunity to shine on the world stage. From delicate and aromatic Pinot Noirs from Mornington Peninsula on the coast of Victoria, to hearty reds from McLaren Vale in neighbouring South Australia, to the bright whites and cool Cabs from all the way across the country in Margaret River, Western Australia, there's an incredible selection of wines to be had. We've picked some of our favourites below—but don't worry, we've also included Barossa Shiraz!

Rosé	Miraval Rosé De Provence 2019 Pitt, Jolie Et Perrin Wine Spectator has lauded this as the best rosé in the world, and it may be the most famous too, due to the current owners of the seventeenth-century Miraval property, a certain famous Hollywood power couple, recently separated. Fragrant white blossom, strawberry and cherry aromas, followed by summer berries and white stone fruits with cream on the palate, enriched by the slightest touch of herbs. What is white port? Drier, less intense, and with a gentler character than its famous red-grape-based cousin, white port is made from indigenous Portuguese white grapes. If you haven't already been hit by the white-port-and-tonic craze, make this the year that you try the P&T. With delicate flavours of lemon and orange peel, creamy nuts, and a hint of white pepper, and a lower dose of alcohol than a G&T (with a white port having around half the ABV of a gin), a P&T is a brilliant option for a summer drink. But if you want a real sipper, try a chilled glass of the Kopke 10yo on its own. Perfection!

Fancy something a bit more Spanish? Make like the Andalusians and pour a rebujito. One part Fino sherry, two parts lemonade, mint to garnish. You'll often find this easy-going, thirst-quenching long drink enjoyed in any cafe lining the town square as an excellent sundown or served, on account of Finos' lower ABVs (typically around 15%) and the proportion of mixer to alcohol, with lunch at a sherry bodega. Quick trip to Jerez, anyone?

Let's hear it for the shim! Low-alcohol cocktails that don't substitute style or substance for the sake of a lower-proof libation, shims have been taking the cocktail world by storm. Created from low-alcohol ingredients, including liqueurs, vermouths, sakes and fortified wines, rather than the higher-proof gins, vodkas, rums, tequilas, whiskies or brandies of the world, shims can have all the flavour, complexity and body as their more 'standard', higher-alcohol counterparts, and can boast an incredible versatility that can take you from a refreshing tippie at brunch to that one final, really serious cocktail that you absolutely just have to try before last orders. But from where does the name 'shim' come? In carpentry, a shim is a small bit of wood used to keep things level, and a shim cocktail is doing something similar. In the words of Dinah Sanders, who came up with the term a few years ago, 'more drink, less drunk.'

Low/No alcohol	Beavertown Lazer Crush IPA 0.3% 33cl Can Heavyweight flavour, featherweight ABV. Our in your face IPA, that just happens to be alcohol-free. When we decided to brew an AF IPA, we wanted to roll a bit differently. Rather than brewing with small amounts of malt or dealcoholizing after fermentation, for Lazer Crush we used a clever strain of yeast that fully ferments our crisp pilsner malt without producing alcohol and adds a hint of peachy fruit to boot. Then we laid down some heavy-duty hops. Azacca for ripe mango with a hint of fresh pine, Amarillo gives bags of sweet orange and Citra adds the zesty citrus and grapefruit bitterness that we all want in an IPA. The result is a rocket-fuelled, turbocharged, laser-sharp IPA at a Monday to Sunday crushable 0.3%.	33cl	£1.25	24		0.3%

LOW & NO ALCOHOL

Ale	Beavertown Lazer Crush IPA 0.3% 33cl Can Heavyweight flavour, featherweight ABV. Our in your face IPA, that just happens to be alcohol-free. When we decided to brew an AF IPA, we wanted to roll a bit differently. Rather than brewing with small amounts of malt or dealcoholizing after fermentation, for Lazer Crush we used a clever strain of yeast that fully ferments our crisp pilsner malt without producing alcohol and adds a hint of peachy fruit to boot. Then we laid down some heavy-duty hops. Azacca for ripe mango with a hint of fresh pine, Amarillo gives bags of sweet orange and Citra adds the zesty citrus and grapefruit bitterness that we all want in an IPA. The result is a rocket-fuelled, turbocharged, laser-sharp IPA at a Monday to Sunday crushable 0.3%.	33cl	£1.25	24		0.3%
